

World Radio Village

N'Diaganiao Church of Christ, also known as the World Radio Village, is located to the east of the capital city of Dakar, Senegal. We always enjoy reading messages from Arnold Dzah and other brothers in Senegal because they always focus on people coming to Christ. Muslims leaving their old way of life and being born again in Jesus have to put a smile on God's face. It is always encouraging and motivating to hear the stories of our brothers and sisters on the front lines. Arnold often speaks of Muslim visitors who tell him this is the first time that anyone has explained how Jesus Christ is the Son of God. This church in N'Diaganiao was started as a result of families who heard the gospel on the radio and knew it was time for a change. After contacting Arnold, they became Christians and planted one of the newest churches in Africa.

Talking with people who have become Christians because of World Radio broadcasts always impacts us. It makes us realize that we are very privileged to be part of something much greater than ourselves - carrying out the task that Jesus set before us: make disciples, baptize, and teach. The goal is never to puff ourselves up, but to continue to lay ourselves out before Him each and every day asking: What do you have in store for us today, Father? Radio continues to be the most popular media on the planet with unparalleled access. We are so thankful that God worked through faithful servants 47 years ago to begin this ministry that impacts millions of people worldwide with the Good News of Jesus.
